The British Library | LENDING DIVISION

The Lending Division in Brief

Loan/Photocopy Service

The British Library Lending Division exists to provide a loan/photocopy service to any library in the UK prepared to abide by the regulations relating to registered users. The service is also extended to libraries abroad, which may obtain photocopies direct and loans through national centres.

The stock of the Lending Division comprises around 4½ million volumes of books and periodicals, and over 3 million documents in microform. The main criterion for acquisition is that the items are of a nature likely to be wanted on interlibrary loan. Serials are collected irrespective of subject and language; 56,000 current titles are received. English language monographs, wherever published, are acquired comprehensively, while foreign language monographs are bought on a selective basis. Other categories taken are British official publications, non-classified report literature, conference proceedings, translations into English and music scores.

Requests may be submitted on prepaid forms or by telex. About 85% of valid requests are satisfied from stock and a further 10% are processed either by the provision of locations or through the services of back-up libraries working closely with the Lending Division.

Gift and Exchange

The Lending Division accepts material from other libraries, adding to its own stock as necessary and offering the remainder to libraries in the UK and overseas on its monthly lists. Consignments of material can be accepted by prior arrangement.

Courses

Interlending courses for both UK and overseas users are held regularly in order to improve understanding of and cooperation with the Lending Division.

BLAISE Postal Search Service

The BLAISE Postal Service, operated by the MEDLARS Section at the Lending Division, supplies computer literature searches of the medical data base MEDLINE, and also of other BLAISE data bases such as MARC, TOXLINE AND CANCERLINE, in response to postal requests. The service is based on the British Library Automated Information SErvice (BLAISE), accessed from terminals at Boston Spa. Direct on-line use of BLAISE by users with their own terminals is controlled by the Bibliographic Services Division of the British Library in London.

Publications

The Lending Division has an active publishing programme, which includes Interlending Review (quarterly), Index of Conference Proceedings Received (monthly, with annual, five- and ten-year cumulations), Current Serials Received, an annual list of serial titles currently received by the Lending Division, Keyword Index to Serial Titles (KIST), an alphabetical list of all significant words in titles (quarterly), and British Reports, Translations and Theses (Monthly).

Reading Room

A public Reading Room is open from Monday to Friday 8.30 a.m.–5.00 p.m. Any item from the main collections can be made available to readers (9.00 a.m.–4.15 p.m.). A selection of important abstracting and indexing publications and reference books is on open shelves in the Reading Room.

Supplies of Advance Notice forms will be sent by post to intending readers on request. These forms should be completed with details of the items the reader would like to consult and returned to the Lending Division at least 5 working days before the proposed visit. A coin-operated photocopy machine is available in the Reading Room. A map showing the location of the Lending Division will be sent on request.

Further Information

Further information on any aspects of the Lending Division services can be obtained by writing to the Director General.

The British Library Lending Division has one of the most comprehensive collections of conference proceedings in the world, embracing all subject fields. Conference proceedings present considerable difficulties of identification and may be referred to in a variety of ways. In order to help locate conference proceedings in response to requests that often have imperfect details, the Lending Division started in 1964 to construct a keyword index to the titles of conference proceedings received. This proved very useful internally, and it was decided to produce a published version, which would help librarians to identify conferences and incidentally help to ensure more accurate information on requests to the Lending Division. This index is issued monthly, with annual, 5-year and 10-year cumulations. Other publications index the contents of individual proceedings, but no other published index gives ready access to the titles of so many conferences—125,000 to date with 13,000 added annually.

CONTENTS OF LIST

All types of conference proceedings are covered, including those that appear in serial form, those reporting individual conferences and published as books, and those published as parts of normal serials. The absence of a particular conference from the list does not necessarily mean that the proceedings are not held by the Lending Division, as it is not always clear that a certain publication represents the proceedings of a conference.

GUIDE TO THE USE OF THIS VOLUME

The index is arranged alphabetically by subject keywords taken from the title of the conference proceedings. Within each subject keyword, conferences are arranged in chronological order of the date of the meeting. Where the date of a conference is not known the entry has been filed at the beginning of the sequence. The final two columns give details of the place where the conference was held, and its location in the Lending Division. If the index is used to identify an item for requesting from the Lending Division this location should always be quoted. With the assistance of Current Serials Received or Keyword Index to Serial Titles (KIST), two of the Lending Division's publications, it is possible to identify the titles of journals by means of the location numbers in this index, since the numerical sequence of serials follows the alphabetical order.

CHOICE AND ARRANGEMENT OF KEYWORDS

Entries have normally been made in the language of the document, but preference has been given to English in the case of multi-lingual conferences. A limited number of additional keywords have been chosen in English where this will avoid confusion. The keywords chosen may be either simple single-word entries or key-phrases, consisting of two or more words. It has been found desirable to make entries under the acronyms of abbreviations of some of the common institutions and societies, eg AICHE, IEEE, which are filed as if they were ordinary words. The arrangement of the keywords is letter by letter, but certain anomalies arise because the keywords have been taken strictly from the documents indexed. Thus BEHAVIOR and BEHAVIOUR will be filed separately. Hyphens have been eliminated wherever possible.

ON-LINE ACCESS TO CONFERENCE FILE

CONFERENCE PROCEEDINGS INDEX is a new on-line service providing access to the file of conference proceedings that is used to produce the printed indexes. Full details are available from BLAISE Marketing, 2 Sheraton Street, W1V 4BH.

INTRODUCTION

The British Library Lending Division has one of the most comprehensive collections of conference proceedings in the world, embracing all subject fields. Conference proceedings present considerable difficulties of identification and may be referred to in a variety of ways. In order to help locate conference proceedings in response to requests that often have imperfect details, the Lending Division started in 1964 to construct a keyword index to the titles of conference proceedings received. This proved very useful internally, and it was decided to produce a published version, which would help librarians to identify conferences and incidentally help to ensure more accurate information on requests to the Lending Division. This index is issued monthly, with annual, 5-year and 10-year cumulations. Other publications index the contents of individual proceedings, but no other published index gives ready access to the titles of so many conferences—146,000 to date with 16,000 added annually.

CONTENTS OF LIST

All types of conference proceedings are covered, including those that appear in serial form, those reporting individual conferences and published as books, and those published as parts of normal serials. The absence of a particular conference from the list does not necessarily mean that the proceedings are not held by the Lending Division, as it is not always clear that a certain publication represents the proceedings of a conference.

GUIDE TO THE USE OF THIS VOLUME

The index is arranged alphabetically by subject keywords taken from the title of the conference proceedings. Within each subject keyword, conferences are arranged in chronological order of the date of the meeting. Where the date of a conference is not known the entry has been filed at the beginning of the sequence. The final two columns give details of the place where the conference was held, and its location in the Lending Division. If the index is used to identify an item for requesting from the Lending Division this location should always be quoted. With the assistance of Current Serials Received or Keyword Index to Serial Titles (KIST), two of the Lending Division's publications, it is possible to identify the titles of journals by means of the location numbers in this index, since the numerical sequence of serials follows the alphabetical order

CHOICE AND ARRANGEMENT OF KEYWORDS

Entries have normally been made in the language of the document, but preference has been given to English in the case of multi-lingual conferences. A limited number of additional keywords have been chosen in English where this will avoid confusion. The keywords chosen may be either single-word entries or key-phrases, consisting of two or more words. It has been found desirable to make entries under the acronyms of abbreviations of some of the common institutions and societies, eg AICHE, IEEE, which are filed as if they were ordinary words. The arrangement of the keywords is letter by letter, but certain anomalies arise because the keywords have been taken strictly from the documents indexed. Thus BEHAVIOR and BEHAVIOUR will be filed separately. Hyphens have been eliminated wherever possible.

ON-LINE ACCESS TO CONFERENCE FILE

CONFERENCE PROCEEDINGS INDEX is an on-line service providing access to the file of conference proceedings that is used to produce the printed indexes. Full details are available from BLAISE Marketing, 2 Sheraton Street, W1V 4BH.

either single-word entries or key-phrases, consisting of two or more words. It has been found desirable to make entries under the acronyms of abbreviations of some of the common institutions and societies, eg AICHE, IEEE, which are filed as if they were ordinary words. The arrangement of the keywords is letter by letter, but certain anomalies arise because the keywords have been taken strictly from the documents indexed. Thus BEHAVIOR and BEHAVIOUR will be filed separately. Hyphens have been eliminated wherever possible.

INTRODUCTION

The British Library Lending Division has one of the most comprehensive collections of conference proceedings in the world, embracing all subject fields. Conference proceedings present considerable difficulties of identification and may be referred to in a variety of ways. In order to help locate conference proceedings in response to requests that often have imperfect details, the Lending Division started in 1964 to construct a keyword index to the titles of conference proceedings received. This proved very useful internally, and it was decided to produce a published version, which would help librarians to identify conferences and incidentally help to ensure more accurate information on requests to the Lending Division. This index is issued monthly, with annual, 5-year and 10-year cumulations. Other publications index the contents of individual proceedings, but no other published index gives ready access to the titles of so many conferences—146,000 to date with 16,000 added annually.

CONTENTS OF LIST

All types of conference proceedings are covered, including those that appear in serial form, those reporting individual conferences and published as books, and those published as parts of normal serials. The absence of a particular conference from the list does not necessarily mean that the proceedings are not held by the Lending Division, as it is not always clear that a certain publication represents the proceedings of a conference.

GUIDE TO THE USE OF THIS VOLUME

The index is arranged alphabetically by subject keywords taken from the title of the conference proceedings. Within each subject keyword, conferences are arranged in chronological order of the date of the meeting. Where the date of a conference is not known the entry has been filed at the beginning of the sequence. The final two columns give details of the place where the conference was held, and its location in the Lending Division. If the index is used to identify an item for requesting from the Lending Division this location should always be quoted. With the assistance of Current Serials Received or Keyword Index to Serial Titles (KIST), two of the Lending Division's publications, it is possible to identify the titles of journals by means of the location numbers in this index, since the numerical sequence of serials follows the alphabetical order

CHOICE AND ARRANGEMENT OF KEYWORDS

Entries have normally been made in the language of the document, but preference has been given to English in the case of multi-lingual conferences. A limited number of additional keywords have been chosen in English where this will avoid confusion. The keywords chosen may be either single-word entries or key-phrases, consisting of two or more words. It has been found desirable to make entries under the acronyms of abbreviations of some of the common institutions and societies, eg AICHE, IEEE, which are filed as if they were ordinary words. The arrangement of the keywords is letter by letter, but certain anomalies arise because the keywords have been taken strictly from the documents indexed. Thus BEHAVIOR and BEHAVIOUR will be filed separately. Hyphens have been eliminated wherever possible.

ON-LINE ACCESS TO CONFERENCE FILE

CONFERENCE PROCEEDINGS INDEX is an on-line service providing access to the file of conference proceedings that is used to produce the printed indexes. Full details are available from BLAISE Marketing, 2 Sheraton Street, W1V 4BH.

INTRODUCTION

The British Library Lending Division has one of the most comprehensive collections of conference proceedings in the world, embracing all subject fields. Conference proceedings present considerable difficulties of identification and may be referred to in a variety of ways. In order to help locate conference proceedings in response to requests that often have imperfect details, the Lending Division started in 1964 to construct a keyword index to the titles of conference proceedings received. This proved very useful internally, and it was decided to produce a published version, which would help librarians to identify conferences and incidentally help to ensure more accurate information on requests to the Lending Division. This index is issued monthly, with annual, 5-year and 10-year cumulations. Other publications index the contents of individual proceedings, but no other published index gives ready access to the titles of so many conferences—146,000 to date with 16,000 added annually.

CONTENTS OF LIST

All types of conference proceedings are covered, including those that appear in serial form, those reporting individual conferences and published as books, and those published as parts of normal serials. The absence of a particular conference from the list does not necessarily mean that the proceedings are not held by the Lending Division, as it is not always clear that a certain publication represents the proceedings of a conference.

GUIDE TO THE USE OF THIS VOLUME

The index is arranged alphabetically by subject keywords taken from the title of the conference proceedings. Within each subject keyword, conferences are arranged in chronological order of the date of the meeting. Where the date of a conference is not known the entry has been filed at the beginning of the sequence. The final two columns give details of the place where the conference was held, and its location in the Lending Division. If the index is used to identify an item for requesting from the Lending Division this location should always be quoted. With the assistance of Current Serials Received or Keyword Index to Serial Titles (KIST), two of the Lending Division's publications, it is possible to identify the titles of journals by means of the location numbers in this index, since the numerical sequence of serials follows the alphabetical order

CHOICE AND ARRANGEMENT OF KEYWORDS

Entries have normally been made in the language of the document, but preference has been given to English in the case of multi-lingual conferences. A limited number of additional keywords have been chosen in English where this will avoid confusion. The keywords chosen may be either single-word entries or key-phrases, consisting of two or more words. It has been found desirable to make entries under the acronyms of abbreviations of some of the common institutions and societies, eg AICHE, IEEE, which are filed as if they were ordinary words. The arrangement of the keywords is letter by letter, but certain anomalies arise because the keywords have been taken strictly from the documents indexed. Thus BEHAVIOR and BEHAVIOUR will be filed separately. Hyphens have been eliminated wherever possible.

ON-LINE ACCESS TO CONFERENCE FILE

CONFERENCE PROCEEDINGS INDEX is an on-line service providing access to the file of conference proceedings that is used to produce the printed indexes. Full details are available from BLAISE Marketing, 2 Sheraton Street, W1V 4BH.

Information Service
C.F.T.R.I., MYSORE

The British Library Lending Division has one of the most comprehensive collections of conference proceedings in the world, embracing all subject fields. Conference proceedings present considerable difficulties of identification and may be referred to in a variety of ways. In order to help locate conference proceedings in response to requests that often have imperfect details, the Lending Division started in 1964 to construct a keyword index to the titles of conference proceedings received. This proved very useful internally, and it was decided to produce a published version, which would help librarians to identify conferences and incidentally help to ensure more accurate information on requests to the Lending Division. This index is issued monthly, with annual, 5-year and 10-year cumulations. Other publications index the contents of individual proceedings, but no other published index gives ready access to the titles of so many conferences—146,000 to date with 16,000 added annually.

CONTENTS OF LIST

All types of conference proceedings are covered, including those that appear in serial form, those reporting individual conferences and published as books, and those published as parts of normal serials. The absence of a particular conference from the list does not necessarily mean that the proceedings are not held by the Lending Division, as it is not always clear that a certain publication represents the proceedings of a conference.

GUIDE TO THE USE OF THIS VOLUME

The index is arranged alphabetically by subject keywords taken from the title of the conference proceedings. Within each subject keyword, conferences are arranged in chronological order of the date of the meeting. Where the date of a conference is not known the entry has been filed at the beginning of the sequence. The final two columns give details of the place where the conference was held, and its location in the Lending Division. If the index is used to identify an item for requesting from the Lending Division this location should always be quoted. With the assistance of Current Serials Received or Keyword Index to Serial Titles (KIST), two of the Lending Division's publications, it is possible to identify the titles of journals by means of the location numbers in this index, since the numerical sequence of serials follows the alphabetical order

CHOICE AND ARRANGEMENT OF KEYWORDS

Entries have normally been made in the language of the document, but preference has been given to English in the case of multi-lingual conferences. A limited number of additional keywords have been chosen in English where this will avoid confusion. The keywords chosen may be either single-word entries or key-phrases, consisting of two or more words. It has been found desirable to make entries under the acronyms of abbreviations of some of the common institutions and societies, eg AICHE, IEEE, which are filed as if they were ordinary words. The arrangement of the keywords is letter by letter, but certain anomalies arise because the keywords have been taken strictly from the documents indexed. Thus BEHAVIOR and BEHAVIOUR will be filed separately. Hyphens have been eliminated wherever possible.

ON-LINE ACCESS TO CONFERENCE FILE

CONFERENCE PROCEEDINGS INDEX is an on-line service providing access to the file of conference proceedings that is used to produce the printed indexes. Full details are available from BLAISE Marketing, 2 Sheraton Street, W1V 4BH.
